

S. Kann Sons Co.

THE BUSY CORNER PENNA. AVE. & 8TH ST.

TODAY—See the Mack Sennett Bathing Beauties

In our garment department, second floor, between the hours of 11 a. m. and 12:30 p. m.

These beautiful girls are posing as models to show the new suits, dresses, coats, furs, blouses, millinery, etc. The young ladies are:

Miss Billie Fricker, Miss Anita Garvin, Miss Ann Hughes, Miss Mathile Lawrence, Miss Rose Lorraine, Miss Florence Redmond, Miss Adrienne Wally

These young ladies also appear in person at the

Strand Theater in Connection With Yankee Doodle in Berlin

They will be here the rest of the week, do not fail to see them.

HOROSCOPE.

Wednesday, November 12, 1919.

Copyright, 1919, by The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

This should be a lucky day, according to astrology. The Sun, Mars and Jupiter are all in benefic aspect.

While this configuration prevails there should be a strong impulse toward all constructive activities. It is a most favorable time to venture into any new business or to seek better connections.

Under this rule politics are especially well directed. It is a fortunate time for those who have ambitions.

Better aspects govern all that pertains to the recent war. Adjustments and reorganizations are subject to good conditions. For public or private use is again subject to encouraging conditions that promise much for the spring. Mars culminating in seventy degrees west longitude gives warning of danger to rulers in that part of the world.

As Mars is on the cusp of the fourth house in the horoscope of the national capital astrologers forecast fires and tornadoes. Incendiarism is encouraged by this aspect.

The stars that made it possible for men to fight in the recent war are still powerful in their influence, the seeds declare and for that reason riots and outrages in which young men of military age take part are to be expected unless wise care is exercised.

Since the seeds declare that the world mind is still sick they emphasize the need of constant care in safeguarding the public against evil and malicious propaganda.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the forecast of a busy year. Children born on this day may be exceedingly clever and original. These Scorpio subjects may be too fond of travel for their own good.

THE UPSTAIRS SHOP

Second Floor 503 7th St. N. W. Over Commercial & Savings Bank

RARE BARGAINS IN DRESSES

$13.75, $16.75, $19.75

Better, Safer, More Thorough, More Sanitary—THE "GEYSER WAY"

The most delicate fabrics are as safe from injury as the heaviest materials, and both are brought to a degree of CLEANLINESS that shows the process to be without a peer. We'll send a machine to your home for FREE DEMONSTRATION. If it proves its value to you, you may buy one and pay for it by the month—really less than it costs to employ a washerwoman. We advise ordering while prompt deliveries are assured.

Carroll Electric Co.

Electrical, Mechanical, Automobile Supplies, Domestic Appliances. 714 TWELFTH STREET MAIN 7320

Made Right Here in Washington

Society

By E. C. DRUMHUNT

The first formal state function in honor of his royal highness, the Prince of Wales, was given last evening by the Vice President of the United States, the Hon. Thomas R. Marshall, representing the President. It was given at the Belmont home, which is the headquarters of the prince and his suite. Mrs. Marshall was unable to attend because of illness, so Mrs. Robert Lansing, wife of the Secretary of State, acted as hostess.

The table, which was arranged in the shape of a large U, was set in the spacious dining room which was fairly aglow with American Beauty roses, intermingled with white roses arranged in large silver bowls at frequent intervals. The handsome dark red tapestry covering the walls, and the heavy red hangings of the same color made a colorful background for the historic scene.

The dining room is a very handsome, artistic one. The doorway, and mantel are of a soft gray marble. A few large oil paintings are the only ornaments on the red walls, but in each of the four corners of the room is a huge bronze standard, topped by a circle of simple electric candles.

Alternating with the groups of red and white roses on the table were silver bowls of magnificent looking fruits and silver candelabra with red shades. Pale pink roses and asparagus vines trailed along the table between the vases. In the center of the table just in front of his royal highness was a large plaque of American Beauty roses, white roses, white orchids, lilies of the valley and sweet peas, beautifully combined.

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

Just opposite the prince was placed Mrs. White, with the British Ambassador on her left and the Belgian Ambassador on her right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

The prince sat in the middle of the table with the Vice President on his left, and Mrs. Lansing on his right. The French Ambassador, dean of the diplomatic corps, sat on Mrs. Lansing's right, while his wife was placed at Mr. Marshall's left. Chief Justice White was at Mrs. Jussorand's left and next to him was Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne, wife of the Ambassador of Belgium. Secretary Lansing was at

of Congress, at which the Congress of the United States, with the ladies of their families, and others in official life will have opportunity to meet his highness. Preceding the reception the prince will be entertained informally at dinner by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing at their residence in Eighteenth street. They will have twenty-four guests, among them a number of persons who have English connections. Tomorrow evening the British Ambassador, Viscount Grey, will give a stag dinner at the embassy for the prince, and this will be followed by a small reception, when it is thought that Mrs. Blake, wife of Capt. Geoffrey Blake, naval attaché of the British Embassy, will act as hostess.

Tomorrow afternoon the prince will motor to Mount Vernon, accompanied by Vice President Marshall and Secretary Lansing. It is expected that he will lay a wreath on the stone sarcophagus of Washington inside the memorial in Potomac Park and go out to Walter Reed Hospital.

Leaving Washington Friday, the prince will go to Annapolis by train, where he will inspect the Naval Academy. He will then go to Baltimore, where he will spend Saturday, Sunday and Monday has not been announced. He is due in New York next Tuesday.

The Prince of Wales will quit America shores November 22 after a five-day visit in New York. His highness will visit West Point, and attend a service in Trinity Church, sitting in the same pew where his grandfather, later King Edward VII, sat when he visited this country as Baron Dufferin and Ava.

The prince has only five members of his suite staying with him at the Belmont house. Among them are Rear Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey and Lieut. Col. F. W. M. Grigg. Though very large, the Belmont home can accommodate the entire party with the prince and the others at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leiter. The prince and some of his suite staying in the Belmont house are accompanied by about twenty servants. His royal highness is occupying Mrs. Belmont's suite of rooms.

Mrs. Albert S. Burleson, president of the Washington Center of Drama League of America, will entertain its members at a tea tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Miss Lenore Uric, who is appearing in the Belasco this week in "The Son-Daughter," has been invited to attend.

Edwin W. Mors, United States Ambassador to Brazil, started yesterday from his post on a vacation trip to the United States after having remained at his post almost continuously during the last three years of war. He expects to return to Brazil in March next.

Craig W. Wadsworth, secretary of the Embassy, will be in charge during his absence.

The Minister of the Netherlands, J. T. Cremer, underwent a minor operation at Emergency Hospital Sunday and is progressing satisfactorily.

It is expected that he will remain under treatment for the next two or three weeks.

Joseph Tumulty, secretary to the President, has gone to New York, where his 7-year-old son, Philip, is to be operated on for intestinal trouble.

Admiral W. S. Benson, who has gone to Charleston, S. C., at the invitation of the Atlantic Deep Water Ways Association and addressed it there yesterday, will return tomorrow when he will receive a decoration from the Prince of Wales.

LUNCHEON PARTY AT CAPE ST. MARKS. Maurice Esan, formerly United States Minister to Denmark, and Mrs. Esan entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at the Cape St. Marks.

Dr. Bjoldir Pouritch, secretary of the legation of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, left Washington yesterday for Russia going via San Francisco and Japan.

Dr. D. H. Andrae, commercial attaché of the Netherlands Legation, is making a short stay in New York.

Miss Anna Hamlin will entertain at luncheon today in compliment to the Misses da Gama, the debutante daughters of Mme. Domingo da Gama, who is spending the winter with the Ambassador of Chile and Mme. Mathieu.

Miss Elna Sims will be hostess at a luncheon today in honor of Miss Virginia Jeffries.

MRS. BROWELL IN NEW YORK. Mrs. Charles Browwell has gone to New York to remain a few days. During her absence her daughter, Miss Mildred Browwell, is being chaperoned by Miss Katherine Winston. Miss Browwell has as her guest Miss Margaret Harding, whose father, W. P. G. Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, is out of town on a business trip. Miss Browwell and Miss Harding will go to White Sulphur Springs at the end of the week to make a short stay.

Mrs. Browwell's mother, Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, who is at her home in Bloomington, Ill., will return here in about a week.

Mrs. Newberry, wife of Senator Truman H. Newberry, who has been in Philadelphia for several days, will return here this evening.

Sir Charles Gordon, commissioner of Canada, arrived in Washington last night and will be at the New Willard during the visit of the Prince of Wales.

Representative Frank Doremus will return at the end of the week from a short stay in New York.

O. D. Oliphant, who made a short visit with his father, Hughes Oliphant, has returned to his home in Trenton. The latter is quite ill at his apartment in the Ontario.

Mrs. Oliver Harriman, of New York, who is here to attend a meeting of the

Continued on page ten.

CHILDREN'S SUNRISE STORIES

UNCLE WIGGY AND MRS. STUBTAIL.

By HOWARD H. GARIS. (Copyright, 1919, The McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Jollie Long Tail had tossed his sister's doll up on a stump where they couldn't reach it when along came Uncle Wiggly.

"Can you jump on top of that stump, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Jollie.

"You just watch me!" spoke the bunny, confident like.

He gave a little run, took a hop and a skip, and right up on top of the stump he jumped. Jollie and Jollie expected to see him land safely and stay there until he could toss down Jollie's doll. But, instead, Uncle Wiggly, all of a sudden, just vanished and disappeared from sight, as when you drop your penny down a crack in the board walk.

"O, did you see that?" cried Jollie, somewhat frightened.

"Yes," answered her brother Jollie. "I wonder where he went?" O, Uncle Wiggly! Where are you?" cried the little mouse boy.

"Down inside the stump," answered the voice of the bunny rabbit, coming faint and far away as if he might be in the cellar. "The stump is hollow and I fell inside. I'm here now and your doll's here with me, Jollie."

"O, can't you jump out?" asked Jollie.

"I'm going to try," answered the bunny.

Jollie and Jollie Longtail heard funny noises inside the hollow stump. Uncle Wiggly made them as he tried to jump out, but he couldn't leap high enough.

"It's no use," sadly said Mr. Longears from inside the stump to the mouse children outside. "I can't get out. Better go and tell Nurse Jane she'll never see me again."

"O, dear! O, dear!" sadly squeaked Jollie and Jollie. And they thought it was their fault that Uncle Wiggly was down inside the stump. I'm not saying whose fault it was.

"O, dear," cried Jollie again, and just then along came Mr. Stubtail, the —meaning the lighter cuttings, which are shown in such a profusion of graceful designs; new flaring, curved and straight shapes, the prettiest slender pieces and tall colonial pitchers, candy jars and other articles of elegant stateliness.

Woodward & Lothrop

New York—WASHINGTON—Paris.

Unusual Designs in Floral Cut Glass

There are many pieces this season that are thinner and more delicate than the light cuttings shown heretofore; exquisite Jack Frost tracings; the pearly-petalled Moss Rose pattern. These are pieces for your dressing table as well as your dining table. Every piece of this glassware is unusually well made and extremely artistic.

You Will Be Delighted to Find That These Desirable Selections in Cut Glass Are Very Inexpensive

Water Sets with six goblets; new shape $4.75	Covered Butter Dish $1.25 up
Cheese and Cracker Dish $2.75 up	Jam Jars $1.50 up
Whipped Cream or Mayonnaise Sets, three pieces $2.50 up	Sugar and Cream Sets $1.50 up
Relish Dishes $2.50 up	Pickle Dishes $1.50 up
Covered Compots $1.50 up	Handled Nappies $1.50 up
Jelly Compots $1.50 up	Handled Cake or Sandwich Trays $1.75 up
Sanitary Syrup Pitchers $1.50 up	Covered Candy Jars $1.25 up
Federal Fruit Dishes $2.50 up	Sandwich Plates $2.50 up
	Mayonnaise Bowls with spoons $1.50 up
	Jelly Compots $1.50 up
	Handled Nappies $1.50 up

Goblets, Fruit Cocktail Glasses and Sherbet Glasses, as Illustrated

Special, $4.50 Dozen

They would cost much more if we had to go into the market for them today. We bought early to give a good value.

Voice Culture

Artistic Singing

Albert W. Farned, STUDIO

1329 G Street Northwest Phone Main 116

WHAT'S THIS? About Gray Hair

Most remarkable results obtained. A single application of Scheffer's Hair Colorine restores original color. If you don't find this true you pay nothing. Colorine is absolutely harmless. Not sticky or dirty. Used for 30 years. Recommended by best hair specialists.

Heller's Hair-Store 808 SEVENTH ST.

GEORGETTE WAISTS

Special prices all week, $4.95, $5.95, value to $9.00 to $10.00, headed and braided. All sizes and colors.

Just Received New Shipment of

WINTER DRESSES, $19.50 UP

Open Till 9 p. m.

Our small expense means smaller prices.

Marks

1616 9th St. N.W. North 2866.

MORRIS

Supreme Peaches

You'll like the rich flavor of these peaches. All Morris Supreme canned fruits bear the yellow and black label. Look for it.

MORRIS & COMPANY

The Flour of the Family

There Is Always a 'Best' of Everything

In Flour adapted to the specific uses of the family it is

Washington Flour

—made from specially selected wheat; blended scientifically.

Ask your neighbor who uses it—she will tell you of her baking successes with never a failure.

All good grocers sell Washington Flour because it gives such excellent satisfaction.

"It Speaks for Itself"

Made Right Here in Washington